

Lemonjello's Art Booking Policies

Lemonjello's displays art by local area artists only.

We usually have work by a single artist at a time on a bi-monthly rotation, but we do have multiple artist shows occasionally.

Lemonjello's does not pay you to display your work, but also won't take a commission if you sell a piece. If you do sell a piece while it is on display at our store, we ask that you leave it up until the end of the originally agreed upon display time. You are not required to list your pieces for sale.

We require an artist bio/statement to display in the store and on our webpage. You may also provide a digital copy of one piece for the website.

You must provide typed labels for your pieces including: title, your name, media, price (or note that it's not for sale), and we highly suggest you include contact info (an e-mail, phone #, and/or webpage).

Your pieces must be "gallery ready" when it comes time to hang them, meaning that they are clean, matted and preferably framed. Framed pieces are generally considered over un-framed pieces. As of right now, we can only display wall hung art, no free standing sculptures please. YOUR PIECES MUST HAVE HANGERS ON THE BACK! Wire is preferred. No sawtooth hangers please.

If/when we do decide to display your work, we will set up a date and time with you to hang the art, and a date and time to take it down. If you are not present to hang your art, we will hang something else in it's place. If you're not present to take it down, and don't set up another arrangement with us, we will take it down for you and you will be charged a $25 service charge for our time and storage.

In the event that your matting/framing is damaged while in our store, we will have it replaced/repared at the local frame shop of our choice. If the art itself is damaged, Lemonjello's will buy it at a fair market price. In the event that your art is not priced, it's fair market value will be assessed by a local gallery of our choice.

Keep in mind that we are an all ages venue. We retain the right to refuse art if we feel that it does not reflect the style of the shop or if we feel that it is distasteful or inappropriate for our store.
